

ONLINE WORKSHOP 2021
JUDITH DELOZIER & KATHRIN M. WYSS

When NLP meets Shamanism

Please join us in February 2021 for sessions of 2.5 hours.

This coaching circle like workshop is designed to explore the world of shamanism through the filters of Neuro-linguistic Programming. “Shamanism is the connecting of the ordinary world to the spiritual world or the world of spirit.” In NLP we would say a strong connection with the field.

In our time together we are using on one hand modeling to share descriptions of the different layers of NLP and in the Shamanic cosmology, and on the other hand practices and rituals to dive in and experience the connection. The live sessions follow the tradition of oral teachings and are interactive as we build on contributions from participants to foster an organic learning. By exploring the different descriptions of our cosmology, we can on a logical level share experiences that point a finger in the direction of differences in perception, awareness, energy and our understanding of life, yet everyone experiences it differently.

We share on day one an introduction to the theme and the following days are filled with reflections, guided group practices, exercises and exchange of experiences. In the in-between time you will have a handout to reflect the teachings, some homework assignments for our own direct revelation learning as well as access to a private Facebook group for an enriched exchange.

Our guiding questions will be how we can utilize principles, rituals and the beliefs from many shamanic cultures in order to support us to release, recollect, expand, focus, center and ultimately how to be connected to what is.

WHAT IS SHAMANISM?

Shamanism is a practice that incorporates knowledge, skills and attitudes in a holistic and integrative way from various elements such as religion, healing, magic and mysticism, while highlighting physical and spiritual life. The shaman navigates between different states of consciousness and accesses various realities to bring healing, power and information. The shaman communicates with the elements of nature, spirits, ancestors, ascended masters and many other entities that have no physical body on this earth.

He is "the one who sees with from the heart "so that everyone can be ALL he can BE

What is NLP?

NLP is the study of our subjective behavior: our mind set, our state, our attitude and our thinking process. Our thinking process creates actions which, when successful, allows us to achieve goals and dreams.
